NHL draft 2007

(Looking for the 2007-08 Fantasy Pool Guide? CLICK HERE for info)

Keeper League owners MUST have this. Does your league carry 220 players or more? Then yes, you do need this.

A full breakdown of 7-10 prospects on each team, but from a fantasy perspective. As well, who are NHL teams drafting and how can their selections help you win your league?

At the very least, you read up on prospects when you buy the McKeen's magazine, or the SCORE Forecaster, or THN's Ultimate Pool Guide.

At the very most, you pick up The Hockey News Future Watch and The Hockey News Draft Preview and you are a regular at HockeysFuture . The problem is - these mags give you the full lowdown on prospects. As in...how they skate, how they stickhandle, their defensive and offensive strengths/weaknesses. From there, you must make a judgement on how it all translates into the fantasy world.

Enter Dobber and Bugg.

Dobber - founder of DobberHockey.com, contributor to The Hockey News, The Fourth Period, Pool Expert, and the SCORE Forecaster magazine (not to mention author of

Dobber's Top 200 Fantasy Prospects
) - has teamed up with Matt Bugg, weekly writer of Bugg Bytes

What are we doing? We give you the lowdown - the FANTASY lowdown - on over 240 NHL prospects. What is their upside? How long do you have to wait for them to make the NHL? Where will they fit in on their respective squad? What are the odds they will make the NHL and reach their potential?

It's all here.

Furthermore, we give you the lowdown on all fantasy-worthy 2007 draftees. Bugg gives you his projected "mock" draft, and we also give you our Top 20 2007 NHL Entry Draft players to keep an eye on - Dobber's list and Bugg's list. - and why you should be keeping an eye on them.

The 2007 DobberHockey Fantasy Prospects Report will be emailed out (in Adobe form) on June 1st, 2007. The cost? Just $8.95 to get your hands on all this research. That's not a misprint. $8.95!!

BUY IT NOW AND WIN YOUR KEEPER LEAGUE

Not in a keeper league? Well, what better way to start one. Also, what better way to help you through a hockey-free summer than to read up on the next great fantasy hockey players!

Not sold? Geez, you're really pushing me. I don't know how much further I can bend here, but alright. I know you are buying Dobber's 2007-08 Pool Guide. How do I know this? Because you aren't stupid. So, that guide is $9.95 and the Prospects Report is $8.95....how 'bout I give 'em both to ya for $13.95?

Huh?

$13.95. I think I'm insane to offer such a discount...in fact, about a month ago I already raised this price $1.20 because I came to my senses a little. This is the Keeper League Fantasy Pack. On June 1st you will receive the Prospect Report. On August 1st you will receive the Pool Guide. On September 30th (or so) you will receive the Pool Guide - UPDATED. All via email.

BUY THE KEEPER LEAGUE FANTASY PACK NOW BEFORE I COME TO MY SENSES AGAIN!

Look at this way - if everyone in your league has this fantasy pack but you - you will be towards the bottom of your pool. If you are the only one in your league that has this pack, you will win. It's pretty simple really. Knowledge is power.
