

December 27, 2012 Written by Jeff Angus Thursday, 27 December 2012 00:52 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 December 2012 13:36 "I feel like making those saves obviously helps a lot and making them a little fancy gives the team a little confidence," Subban said. "Just knowing your coaches have the confidence in you, that you're going to play all the games, that helps a lot obviously as well." Mason Raymond has signed with the second division in Sweden. He is the fourth Canuck to sign overseas, joining Cory Schneider, Dale Weise, and Jannik Hansen (although I may be missing one).

Ducks prospect Peter Holland is eyeing an NHL roster spot with Anaheim. He is currently inside track over Anaheim's other skilled young forwards.

playing with Norfolk of the AHL. Thanks to his strong play this season, Holland probably has the Written by Jeff Angus Thursday, 27 December 2012 00:52 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 December 2012 13:36 Holland has been Norfolk's leading scorer through the first third of the AHL season, pacing the Admirals in goals (11), assists (16) and points (27). The Toronto-born center also has been arguably the team's most consistent player, certainly on the offensive end. A good read on the development of Ryan Johansen in the AHL this season. "I feel like I got lucky being here (during the lockout). It's given me a chance to play and learn and grow. I'm not saying I don't care if the lockout ends, but I'm having a great time here." I caught some of the Marlies/Bulldogs game yesterday. Nazem Kadri had a great game, but he left with "headaches" after taking a dirty hit from Zach Stortini.

Written by Jeff Angus Thursday, 27 December 2012 00:52 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 December 2012 13:36
Nino Niederreiter scored twice last night and continues his strong play in the AHL this season.
It is amazing what a little confidence can do.
*
Braden Holtby had a 33 save shutout for Hershey. Holtby continues his strong play this season.
*
Corey Conacher had three points and five shots on goal for Syracuse last night.

Written by Jeff Angus
Thursday, 27 December 2012 00:52 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 December 2012 13:36

So... Patrick Kane... decent hands?

{youtube}a7bSuDvlsuc{/youtube}