

Win $100 to The Fan Zoo

Written by Jeff Angus

Monday, 16 April 2012 21:45 - Last Updated Tuesday, 17 April 2012 17:08

Sign up for The Fan Zoo Auction page in the next 48 hours for a chance to win $100 towards their online store

. To enter, simply sign up for their auction site and put DH (for DobberHockey) at the end of your username. An example: angusDH.

Check out the online store to see the products you could put your winning towards!

Win $100 to The Fan Zoo

Written by Jeff Angus

Monday, 16 April 2012 21:45 - Last Updated Tuesday, 17 April 2012 17:08

To enter the contest, follow these easy steps:

1) Click on The Fan Zoo auction page

2) Sign up, and put DH at the end of your username (example: angusDH)

3) Wait, and hopefully win!

The Fan Zoo will be running live auctions every day for the rest of the postseason. Check their daily auctions out here.

This DobberHockey exclusive contest runs until Wednesday at midnight EST.

The Fan Zoo has built a reputation as the go-to source for authentic sports memorabilia since 2003 when Bobby Atwal and a group of die hard fans opened it under it's original name,

Win $100 to The Fan Zoo

Written by Jeff Angus

Monday, 16 April 2012 21:45 - Last Updated Tuesday, 17 April 2012 17:08

Ultimate Sports World. Having developed trusted relationships over the years with players and teams within professional sports organizations has resulted in The Fan Zoo being able to arrange special signings, fan experiences and corporate events. Everything a sports superfan could want!

The Fan Zoo is also the official memorabilia provider for the Vancouver Canucks.

We have partnered with them because we know that a number of our readers here at DobberHockey are also avid sports memorabilia collectors (myself included). The Fan Zoo is a company built on strong values and they act with integrity and honesty in their dealings with the players and the hockey community. They also aim to give back through various charity initiatives - who can't get on board with that?