The Comish's lead had shrunk from 16.5 at the end of October to only seven points at the close of November. With Green and Semin going down, The Comish is in a downward spiral. Will we see a new leader next month?

The biggest gain (+31.5 points) in the month was Maaaasquito Bites who climbed from second last to fourth overall. This in spite of trading away the best fantasy player (Ovechkin) in a package deal for Brenden Morrow, who was injured just as the trade was accepted.

The largest drop was RepentTokyo, who lost 25 points during the month of November, dropping from second place to ninth. A large part of the drop can be attributed to losing stud goalie Martin Brodeur for an extended period.

There were four trades in November, highlighted by a rather grandiose deal involving someone named Ovechkin.

This one looks like it's going to go down to the wire, with eight teams within ten points of first place.

Zorro dropped like a rock losing 29.5 points and going from third overall to last. Losing Morrow didn't help, nor does the goaltending of Vokoun, Leclaire, DiPietro, Roloson and Ersberg.

Fergie's Leafs vaulted from last to sixth place, mostly on the backs of Kessel and Hudler.

The only trade in November (3rd) had smoothfun receiving D-Sekera Buf and G-Huet Chi and OrrFans Enigmas getting G-Ward,C Car.

Dobber's Three-Tiered League - Nov. Update

November was a tough month for last month's leader. The Moosevomit Retards lost 34.5 points and fell from first to 11th overall.

The biggest gainer was House of Wheels, who gained 26.5 points. Consensus had the second largest jump in points with 23.5 and moved into first place.

It will be a battle to the finish and only two will earn the promotion to the Dobber Pro League. It should be fun watching this one right down to the finish.

The only trade had R-Langenbrunner NJ going to Team Maniax and C-Backstrom Wsh aptly moving to the Capitals on Nov. 5th.
