

A tough decision can be made easier with these charts showing you the best five and worst five schedules for upcoming seven-day periods. Some of you used them last year but for the benefit of new readers here is a refresher. The number next to the team indicates the 'multiplier' to use on a player's point-per-game pace to give you an idea how many points to expect for that week.

After Thursday's games, Pittsburgh will have a league low 69 games played.

I'm going to take a quick look at the upcoming schedules of the teams fighting for their playoff lives as we speak. Seriously, it doesn't get any better than this; Thursday's games had the 7th, 8 , 9 th and 10 seeds in the West all in action. Eastern Conference Boston – two games at home over the weekend (vs Phi, Tor) before heading out of a Pacific trip Ottawa – two more vs Montreal this week, who they have yet to beat this year Florida – five of their next eight after Thursday are on the road; 15-14-5 this season Washington – ugly road trip over next week; @Winnipeg, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia
