By request, accompanying the Roto Exclusive this time around are columns dedicated to shorthanded points (SHP) and faceoffs won (FOW). In addition, following the Black Aces report this month are two featured articles by Peter Harling and Brandon Landry. The new dynasty columns can be seen on the right side of the Roto Focus in the Top 100 chart. Like last time, the three tiered color theme follows suit: Gold (great), blue (good) and red (ok). Know that not all players met the requirements needed for the respective categories, leaving their respective slots blank.

If you would like to see a specific focus in upcoming Roto Guides, I am now taking requests. See PDF for contact information. Should you have any comments, feel free to write them in the
